

Topic - Wondering → what kind of dad I will be.

I'm wondering what kind of dad I'll be. When I'm a dad, I'm going to make sure that I spend the most of time with my kids. I know because I'm experiencing it. I know how it feels. It feels really sad to not see your father on weekdays. When I'm a dad I might have a job where I'll never get to see my kids, but I know they'll always be in my heart. My dad is the best of dads in the whole wide world! When I get a day free with my dad, I'm the happiest kid in the world. When I'm a dad all I'll want to do is be with my kids. End of story, period. I know my dad has a heart and I'll always be in it.
