Prediction Guide

Read the title and predict what the story will be about. Who will be in it? Will it be happy or sad?

WRITE YOUR PREDICTIONS HERE:

Read the first two paragraphs and stop. Think about the information that you know so far. What will happen next? Where is the story going?

WRITE YOUR PREDICTIONS HERE:

Continue to stop reading after every two to four paragraphs and make predictions about what will happen next.

Don’t forget to continually ask yourself if your predictions were accurate or if the story is going in a totally different direction.

It’s not necessary to continue to write down your predictions after every two to four paragraphs unless you find that you forget your predictions or have trouble articulating them.