Privacy: Big Questions

• How much privacy are we willing to give up in order to feel safe?

• How carefully will the government or a private corporation safeguard our information?

• What happens when this information about us is shared or used in ways that were not originally intended?

• Aren’t citizens guaranteed the “right to privacy” under the U.S. Constitution?