“Creating a space where kids feel safe means that we must create a space where we share power. One can let go of power without letting go of control.”

– Cornelius Minor