In Reimagining Writing Assessment, Maja Wilson shows us that by replacing the scales embedded in rubrics with new tools—an array of interpretive lenses designed to observe and describe growth—we can create healthier readers and writers who are more proficient in the long run and more motivated to read and write.

MAJA WILSON is an Assistant Professor of Education at the University of Maine, Farmington. She is the author of Rethinking Rubrics in Writing Assessment, which won the Council on English Education’s Britton Award in 2007.